

CONNECTING TO CREATE WHAT'S NEXT

FAR/DFARS 2022 End of Year Review
December 15, 2022
Presenter Biographies

Alexandra Barbee-Garrett
Associate

Alexandra Barbee-Garrett is an associate in Crowell & Moring's Washington, D.C. office, where she practices in the Government Contracts Group. Alex represents government contractors in both litigation and counseling matters. Her practice focuses on federal regulatory compliance, mandatory disclosures to the government, and False Claims Act and internal investigations. Alex's practice also includes bid protests before the Government Accountability Office (GAO), the U.S. Court of Federal Claims, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, and contract disputes, including sub-prime disputes.

Stephanie L. Crawford
Counsel

Stephanie L. Crawford is a counsel in Crowell & Moring's Washington, D.C. office, practicing in the Government Contracts group. Stephanie's practice focuses on mergers and acquisitions, contract and regulatory compliance reviews, and counseling on supply chain, sourcing, and national security issues. Stephanie supports both buy-side and sell-side transactions. She has led government contracts diligence for numerous private equity entities and defense contractors. She assists clients with navigating post-closing government requirements, including unique license transfers and approvals, novation regulations, and Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency communications. Stephanie also works closely with the firm's Mass Tort, Product, and Consumer Litigation Group and offers unique insight to clients beginning to offer products and services to the government. She supports government contractors facing potential tort litigation with a nexus to their government contracts. She also provides guidance to the consumer product industry and government contractors newly engaging with regulatory bodies outside their norm. In particular, Stephanie has assisted clients throughout the COVID-19 pandemic with evaluating and shifting to new production, assessing novel regulatory risks, understanding the Public Readiness and Emergency Preparedness Act, and preparing for or responding to Defense Production Act orders and requirements.

Olivia Lynch
Partner

Olivia L. Lynch is a partner in Crowell & Moring's Government Contracts Group in the Washington, D.C. office. Olivia advises government contractors on navigating the procurement process, compliance and ethics, commercial item contracting, accessibility, supply chain assurance, and various aspects of state and local procurement law. She has an active bid protest docket and has been involved in agency-level protests as well as bid protests before the Government Accountability Office, the Court of Federal Claims, and the Federal Aviation Administration's Office of Dispute Resolution for Acquisition. Olivia also provides advice on all manner of small business government contracting issues, including: certifications as to small business size and status (SDVOSB, WOSB, 8(a), HUBZone); participation in programs of the Small Business Administration (SBA) and other agencies (e.g., mentor-protégé programs and the Department of Transportation's Disadvantaged Business Enterprise program); and compliance with such requirements as the limitation on subcontracting, non-manufacturer rule, and the small business subcontracting plan requirement.

William B. O'Reilly
Counsel

William B. O'Reilly is a counsel in Crowell & Moring's Washington, D.C. office, where he is a member of the firm's Government Contracts Group. Liam assists clients with all phases of government contracting, including contract formation and award controversies, performance counseling, and claims and disputes litigation. Liam also regularly advises clients on supply chain risk management, addressing issues such as cybersecurity, country of origin and domestic preferences, and counterfeit part detection and avoidance, as well as conducting internal investigations and mandatory disclosures for performance breaches and potential violations of the False Claims Act.

Robert J. Sneckenberg
Partner

Rob Sneckenberg is a partner in Crowell & Moring's Washington, D.C. office. He routinely litigates bid protests before the U.S. Government Accountability Office and U.S. Court of Federal Claims, as well as contract claims before the Armed Services and Civilian Boards of Contract Appeals. He has successfully argued multiple appeals before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, and also counsels clients on a wide array of government contracts issues.

M. Yuan Zhou
Counsel

M. Yuan Zhou is a counsel in the Washington, D.C. office of Crowell & Moring, where she is a member of the firm's Government Contracts Group.

Yuan's practice includes a wide range of investigatory, counseling, and transactional capabilities, including: internal investigations related to the False Claims Act, the Procurement Integrity Act, and other civil and criminal matters; compliance reviews and enhancing contractor compliance programs; representing clients in suspension and debarment proceedings; counseling on data rights issues, challenges, and disputes; mandatory disclosures; and providing government contracts due diligence in transactional matters. As part of the firm's State and Local Practice, Yuan also counsels clients on state and local procurement issues, ranging from bid protests to contract negotiations with state agencies, and advises prime contractors and subcontractors on a variety of issues including prime/sub contract formation, disputes, and other government contracts issues.